UMB. 2524

MONDAY, JULY 25. 1743.

Our last arriv'd the Mails from Holland, France, and Flanders.

Petersburgh, June 28.

Immediately after the settling and signing the definitive Peace with Sweden, a Treaty offensive and defensive will be set on Foot with that Crown, in order to remedy any Disorders that may be occasioned by the Prejudices of the Dilectarians, and others, against the Succession. This Morning a great Council of State was held, in which a Resolution was taken to assist her Hungarian Majesty with a considerable Body of Horse and Foot. The M. de la Chetardie is expected here again. On Sunday last Prince Czerbatow shed her Imperial Majesty's Hand, upon his being appointed to return to the Court of Great Britain in Quality of Envoy Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary from his Court. He is now preparing every Thing for his Journey, and proposes to set out in ten or twelve Days, in order to attend the King of Great Britain in Germany, and afterwards to pass over into England in his Majesty's Service.

Stockholm, July 5. O. S. The Order of Peasants, and the Dilectarians, are unanimous as to the Succession; so that we do not apprehend any Thing from the Danish Armament, notwithstanding the abrupt Departure of the Danish Ministers. The Dyet has assembled three Days successively. They have resolved to exempt the Peasants from the Tax called Fouster-Abgiff. An Attempt was made to get the the Process of Count Lewenwupt re-examined, but it was impossible; so that both the Baron Buddenbrock's Judgment, are confirm'd. The Baron was to have been beheaded on Saturday, but the King, at the Desire of his Relations, has postponed for a Week. The Duke de Deux Ponts has written her Majesty a Letter on the Election, which is now in every Body's Hands, who think they can never enough praise the Grandeur of the Sentiments, the Beauty of the Style, and the exact Propriety, in every Respect, of his Epistle. The Russian Court has caused the Peace to be proclaimed at Petersburgh, and in case of Invasion, should consider their Troops in Finland as our own.

Copenhagen, July 23. Messieurs de Berkenin and de runner returned hither on the 21st, from Sweden; and the same Day Count Tessin arrived also with the Character of Ambassador Extraordinary from the King of Sweden. A Guard of Honour is posted at his Palace, and we are in doubt whether he will have an Audience of the King before the Fleet sails. The Remainder of the Forces which are to embark will arrive in this Neighbourhood on the 25th, and we are busy in equipping more Ships.

Madrid, July 8. Some Affair of the last Importance is in the Carpet. Our Court has received, in a Week, no less than 14 Couriers, and seems very well satisfied; and the Queen said Yesterday, at Dinner, that his most Christian Majesty had order'd 12,000 Men to march to the assistance of the Infant Don Philip. Dr. Marcello Venier, who was sent for lately from Parma, is to be admitted, on the 1st of next Month, in Quality of Physician to the King and Queen, in the room of M. Cervi, who is now grown in a manner superannuated. Don Joseph de Carjaval and Lancaster, is preparing a most magnificent Equipage, in order to go Ambassador to a foreign Court, which, as yet, is not named. We are exceedingly alarmed here with the ill News that the plague is not only broke out in Sicily, but at Oran and Ceuta.

Genoa, July 14. On the 9th an English Squadron anchored in the Road of Vado, and on the 13th came to anchor in our Road. It consists of 13 Ships of the Line, three small Ships, a Fireship, and some Transports. As Admiral Mathews commands in Person, we are not a little alarmed.

Chamberry, July 19. The Spaniards in the Duchy of Savoy began to move out of their Quarters on the 16th, and we apprehend that the great Push will be made by Little St. Bernard. According to the List subscribed by the Adjutant-General, the Infant's Army is 15,000 strong; but if our Eyes may be believed, his Troops are not above 20,000 fighting Men. The Marquis de Mins has taxed the different Districts of this Duchy at 1,700,000 Livres, and 10,000 Oxen, for our Contingent towards this Campaign. All the Magazines are removed towards Montmelian and Aiguebelle.

Hambourg, July 20. M. Pecklin, Son to the Holstein Envoy at the Court of Sweden, arriv'd here on the 10th.

He might have come a Day sooner, if he had not been stopp'd for 24 Hours at Rottschild, by an Order from his Danish Majesty. Major-General Stahl on the 16th arriv'd here from Stockholm, and in the Audience, which he was immediately introduced to, of the Bishop of Lubeck, he presented to his Highness a Letter from the King of Sweden, in which his Majesty informs that Prince of his Nomination to the eventual Succession in Sweden. The Bishop having notified his Election in Sweden, by his Grand Marshal M. Pliff, to the Burgher-Master Widow, received Yesterday the congratulatory Compliments of the Town from the Syndic Lipstorf and Councillor Brocks, who were deputed to him upon the Occasion. They afterwards waited upon the Duchess of Holstein and the Prince Augustus, to assure their Highnesses of the Part they take in this great Event; and the Joy which it occasions in this Town, is conspicuous amongst all Ranks of People. The Town offer'd to send his Highness a Guard, which the Prince waved. It is thought his Highness will wait the Arrival of a formal Deputation from Sweden here in Hambourg. Numbers of Persons who are attached to the Court of Holstein resort hither with their Compliments of Congratulation.

Vienna, July 10. Te Deum was sung on Sunday last in the Cathedral Church of this Capital, on Account of the Victory at Dettingen. The Queen was attended with her whole Court, as usual upon the greatest and most solemn Occasions. There was a Drawing Room at Night, and a Ball followed by a Supper at the neighbouring Palace of Schonbrun. This Court has prepared a Circular Rescript, with relation to the whole Transaction of Count Seckendorff with Count Kevernhoeller.

Vienna, July 17. Tho' the Queen's Armies march'd towards the Rhine, and there remains in Bavaria only 20 or 30,000 Men; yet as we perceive as much Care taken to send away Provisions from Hungary into that Country, as if the War was still raging there, we begin to think that it is rather to supply the Inhabitants, reduced every where to the last Necessity, than for the Subsistence of the Troops, who would be well supported, if they had no more than the Magazines which they had taken from the French, and which were exceedingly well furnish'd with all Things.

Vienna, July 17. Prince Lobkowitz was declared Yesterday Governor of Milan. From Bavaria we hear, that Straubing has not yet surrendered, but was batter'd with 42 Pieces of Cannon.

Frankfort, July 25. Prince William of Hesse has taken a House in this City, in order to carry on his Negotiations with greater Facility. Since his Britannick Majesty caused a Detachment to occupy Costheim, Marshal Noailles has caused his Left Wing to extend beyond Oppenheim, by sending thither a grand Reinforcement, with a View, no doubt, to give the Allies to understand, that in case they incline to pass the Rhine, he is still to be found in the Neighbourhood of Mentz. The Bavarian Army, in the mean time, under the Command of Count Maurice of Saxony, is still about Spire, and is employ'd in restoring the old Lines thereabouts, and which served formerly to cover Alsace, and may, perhaps, do the same Service again; since it is certain, behind, that 30,000 may make Head against 50,000. These Lines extend quite from Spire to Neustadt. Behind these Lines M. Noailles forms his principal Magazines, and seems determin'd to risk all in their Defence. The French have laid aside the Title of Auxiliaries to the Emperor. The Army of Prince Charles has pass'd the Neckar, and a few Days ago his Hussars pass'd the Rhine, and carried off some Cattle that were feeding in the Neighbourhood of the French Camp. Great Magazines are forming for the Use of his Army in the Vicinity of the City of Hiedelberg, as there are for the Troops of the Allies near this Place. Most People imagine it will not be long before the Allies pass the Rhine, and it is believ'd it will be about Biberick. The Negotiation between the Emperor and the Queen of Hungary is carried on with the utmost Secrecy, under the Mediation of his Britannick Majesty; and there is great Hopes that it will be brought to a Conclusion before his Majesty sets out for Hanover.

P. S. Straubingen surrendered on the 20th.

Extract from the Paris Almanac.

Paris, July 31. The King has sent Orders to Breff to equip, with the utmost Diligence, a Squadron of Eight Ships of the Line, and a Frigate of 24 Guns. M. de Phelippes has withdrawn the Garison from Heideberg, and rejoin'd Count Saxe, without any Accident. M. Noailles, who was dangerously ill, is better.

Last Wednesday the King's Lieutenant at Strasbourg brought to the Bastille a State-Prisoner, escorted by six Archers, and attended by three Domesticicks. About 8 or 10,000 Men are actually to join Don Philip. According to all the Letters from Germany, Prince Charles will join the Allies, and pass the Rhine in Conjunction; after which, he will set in the Duchy of Luxemburg, and they in Flanders. This occasioned M. Noailles joining Count Saxe. We are augmenting the Fortifications, and filling the Magazines, at Sarre-Louis, as fast as possible. Last Friday M. Broglie lay at Charenton, in his Way to Normandy. A General Assembly of the Clergy will meet very speedily.

From the London Gazette.
Admiral's July 23. His Majesty's Ships the Monmouth, commanded by Capt. Windham, and the Medway, commanded by Capt. Cockburne, being on a Cruise off the Canary Islands, stood into the Road of Santa Cruz in the Island Gomera, on the 20th of May, in order to destroy the Forts, and batter the Town. They were fired at from three Forts; but the Ships anchoring within less than a Quarter of a Mile of them, entirely demolished the Forts, and beat down the greatest Part of the Town, and then put to Sea on their Cruise, having received very little Damage.
